

Amazing Artistic Entrepreneurial Clock Maker

Nate Bowden

Nate Bowden started tinkering with his parents clock at age 11. As an older teen, he offered his repair skills to a clock maker. After an apprenticeship of several years, he went into business for himself.

Bowden's appearance on season two of A Craftsman's Legacy is a fascinating tour of his studio and reveals the history of his extraordinary skill set... a blend of mechanical engineering and r renaissance-like artistry.

Reference

<http://www.craftsmanslegacy.com/>

Dee Adams is the author of Finding Your Niche: Discover...
<https://nichecreativity.com/finding-your-niche-ebook/>