

Aptitudes and Values of A Teen App Inventor

Rethinking the Cyber Bullying Problem

The tragic consequences of cyberbullying inspired then 13-year old Trisha Prabhu to develop a new solution to the problem. . an app called ReThink.

Prabhu decided not to profit from her invention, an app that alerts users when what they are about to post online is inappropriate. A decision consistent with the incident that captured her attention and motivated her to research the issue of online abuse further.

Extraordinary concern and compassion for others, tech and science aptitudes and research skills are a given for the teen but another talent is apparent.

Can you identify it?

Answer: Major communication aptitude and skill

References

ABC News.com

15-Year-Old's 'ReThink' App Aims to Prevent Cyberbullying
<http://tinyurl.com/qd6xt7w>

Rethinkwords.com

<http://www.rethinkwords.com/>