

Career Changer Chooses Winning Restaurant Concept

Old Skool Cafe

An eatery with a different twist is a feature from time to time on the PBS restaurant review program Check Please! Bay Area.!

And a recent segment featured Old Skool Cafe, not your typical supper club. Started by a former corrections officer to help youth avoid crime, the cafe is not based on a new concept. but reportedly, stands out among others of its kind around the country.

Innovation, attention to management principles and skillful execution of the business model no doubt contributes to diners rave reviews.
