The Chain: Farm, Factory
& the Fate of Our Food

December 13, 2014

1 hour and 24 Min

Summary: You'll be glad chips and soda are the only food being served here today; warns the host before this presentation begins. And 20 minutes into the interview you begin to realize that viewers at home may want to avoid eating, too.

An eye-opening account of the food factory system in Iowa includes the details about employees who develop unexplained disability because of processing techniques (which will not be detailed here). But suffice to say that 1300 hogs are processed each hour, up from less than 500 hogs processed each hour prior to 2008...
