

Disney's Jungle Cruise: Business Contract Gag

In Disney's Jungle Cruise movie, when Dr. Lily Houghton, played by Emily Blunt, hires riverboat skipper Frank Wolff, played by Dwayne the Rock Johnson, to guide her and her brother down the Amazon river, Houghton finds an odd clause in the skippers' contract:

"Why are you charging us less if we survive but more if we die during the trip?" asks Lily.

The skipper replies "Because if you die I will have to carry you back myself."

Have you ever read a business contract? You might be surprised by what you find in one.

