Book Excerpt

This updated edition contains more than fifty revisions. New links for educational content are sprinkled throughout chapters.

You'll find an article reprint on work-life balance and time management issues. And fifteen book titles have been added with an asterisk to the bibliography. A children's book, entrepreneurship in African American communities during the turn of the twentieth century, public speaking, skill set evaluation, and tips and strategies for finding information are included.

Note: One of several reprinted in their entirety.
