

How An 8-Year Old Discovered Her Talent for Design

The Start of the Fish Flops Company

Madison Nicole Robinson was a third grader when she came up with the idea for what is now a million-dollar company.

Last month, Robinson, now 16, visited the Steve Harvey Show and shared the early design sketch that launched her company. It's a three minute segment [humor included]: Insightful overview of the inspiration, start and progress of the company that includes a Give Back focus.

Reference

<http://www.steveharveytv.com/fish-flops/>

Next Week: The Name Game: How many beginners miss out on this key point.