Steve Martorano

A life of crime was where he was headed until he discovered he could cook and sell his food, Steve Martorano admits.

This 7-minute late night appearance on Jimmy Kimmel Live! highlights the chef's new cookbook titled It Ain't Sauce It's Gravy. Martorano's humor, original style, and values are underscored with his closing words.

More details on Martorano's struggles in business were discussed on a recent airing of The View (May 27).

Note: DL means a word which was censored.

(Btw...There seems to be a unsettling omission in the YouTube segment: Kimmel, who cooks for his family and friends in his spare time, is seen dipping and munching on bread and cheese... right after he'd handled raw meat Presumably there was a thorough hand washing with hot water and soap off air, which might be why Kimmel and Martorano are seen merely wiping hands on a towel.)
