

How History Sparked Ideas for Food Entrepreneurs

Finding Inspiration in the Antiquarian Marketplace

F

Emily Dickinson's passion for cooking and baking inspired Concord Teacakes to produce one of her recipes. And the young owners of Franklin Fountain with an avid interest since childhood in antiquarian objects created an unusual specialty sundae based on a recipe found in a book published in 1915.

What other ways to apply history in other fields of interest might there be?

Dee Adams is the author of Finding Your Niche: Discover...

<https://nichecreativity.com/finding-your-niche-ebook/>

References

Pbs.org

Emily Dickinson: A Poet in the Kitchen"

<http://tinyurl.com/q7fpx2m>

Concord Tea Cakes

<http://www.concordteacakes.com/about-us>

Foodnetwork.com

Top5 Restaurants, para.2, line 6.

<http://tinyurl.com/nwfs137>

Franklin Fountain.com

<http://www.franklinfountain.com/>