

The Cutthroat World of Management Consulting

Don Cheadle

The Oscar-nominated actor explains how he's broadened his skill set and philanthropic efforts. Cheadle dishes background info on his new comedy for Showtime TV's House of Lies. It's about the underbelly of the consulting industry.

Just a guess, but given some of his remarks about consultants, I'll bet Cheadle won't be a keynote speaker at the American Management Association convention anytime soon.

Reference

<http://video.pbs.org/video/2050561649/>