

Untangling the Cell Phone Safety Debate

Tech Bite

“...It’s hard to get mice and rats to make phone calls.”

[For the purposes of scientific study...]

Harvard lecturer Dr. Devra Davis presents a riveting presentation with safety tips for consumers about the confusion over fact versus fiction in the U.S. and overseas. The talk took place at Georgetown University September 23, 2010. Maine Legislator, Andrea Borland, and former director of the University of Pittsburg Cancer Institute, and Herbert Herberman M.D., also recount their experiences on the issue.

References

<http://www.environmentalhealthtrust.org/>

Book TV Program/Cell Phone Industry

<http://tinyurl.com/cwfk3y4>